Whereabouts Of Cashier Hornung Still A Mystery

Missing Official of Dresden Bank Is Sought By Officers Throughout Ohio--No Warrant Issued for His Arrest--Examiner At Work In Case.

The story of the disappearance of John Hornung, cashier of the Dresden National bank, was still unsolved Wednesday night. The last seen of Mr. Hornung was in Zanesville at 6:10 o'clock Monday night when he boarded an Ohio Electric car.

Boarding a limited car his destination must have been either Newark or Columbus as the car makes only those two stops. It had been previously stated that he left on the local car where he might have stopped at a score or more of places.

In Dresden so far as The Tribune could learn Wednesday there was nothing new in the situation. Examiner Blackman was stil lengaged in his work, but stated that there was nothing to be announced at this time. It is said it will take him several days to straighten out the books and then he will make a report to the directors.

President Copland has been at the bank during the morning, but went to Zanesville about noon, it was stated.

Sheriff Evans, of Muskingum county, went to Dresden again Wednesday morning but stated that he had nothing new in the case, no clue to Mr. Hornung's whereabouts nor knowledge of bank conditions. No warrant has been issued for the arrest of Mr. Hornung, the request to officers in other cities being simply to detain him.

Last Chance To Trim Trees

Notice was given Wednesday by Service Director Smith that on Monday he would start a man who will trim all trees about the city whose branches overhang the street in such a manner as to impede traffic. The cost of the trimming will be assessed upon the property owners. In order to give the owners a chance to trim the trees according to their wishes, the director's order will not take force until Monday.

Forecast For Week

Washington, July 14.—Weather predictions for the week beginning tomorrow, issued by the weather bureau today, are:

North Atlantic states—Moderately warm and generally fair during the next three days, followed by unsettled and considerably cooler for several days thereafter.

Middle Atlantic states—Warm and generally fair during next two or three days followed by showers and considerably cooler weather beginning about Saturday.

Great lakes region—Considerably cooler weather about July 17, preceded by showers and followed by fair weather.

Seek Motive For Suicide

Cleveland, O., July 14.—Police today were trying to find a motive for the suicide of Austin Petit, 19, who shot himself through the head last night in the presence of Miss Ludla Armstrong.

Petit and Miss Armstrong, police say, went for a walk and stopped in a summer house. After a few minutes' chat, Petit is said to have handed the girl two letters to deliver and several she had written him. Then he said he was going on a long journey.

Before she could leave the summer house Petit fired one shot, killing himself almost instantly.

ASKS JUDGMENT.

Jane McCoy commenced suit in common pleas court Wednesday against W. S. Pigman, administrator of the estate of Rebecca Jane McCoy, deceased, for $2,198 with interest from April 12, 1915. The plaintiff alleges that the amount is due her for caring for and nursing Rebecca Jane McCoy. She claims that the administrator refused to pay the account.

Baby Days Festival Commences

Quite the busiest place in town was the baby booth at the Ransom dry goods store on the occasion of the opening of the Baby Days festival, Wednesday. Scores of babies ranging in ages from three to six years were entered in the weighing contest on the opening day and many mothers listened with interest to the first of the series of lectures given by Miss Grace Rose, the Red Cross visiting nurse, who is in charge of the booth and will give a twenty minute talk each afternoon on subjects of importance to mothers. The next lecture will be Friday afternoon and will be, "How to dress the baby."

Carroll Issues Orders

Heather Carrol Wednesday issued official notice to Coshocton property owners that they must keep their premises free from obnoxious weeds and that rubbish must not be allowed to accumulate. They were also reminded that the dumping grounds are on the McClain farm and not at the end of Mulberry street. Unless the notice is complied with, the officer states that prosecutions will follow.

Quarantine Is Modified

Washington, D. C., July 14.—Medina county is freed from quarantine for the foot and mouth disease by an order effective July 12. This order leaves Hamilton county and the Cleveland Union Stock Yards in Cuyahoga county the only places in Ohio quarantined.

No Use To Go North

Juneau, Alaska, July 14.—Extreme heat during the last ten days has caused weather conditions hitherto unknown to the oldest inhabitants of southeastern Alaska.

The weather bureau thermometer has registered as high as 90 degrees in the shade and the 100 degree mark has been reached by street thermometers. Forest fires are raging along Lynn canal and the glaciers have been discharging ice at a rapid rate. At this time of the year the sun shines twenty of the twenty four hours each day and to absence of the usual southwest winds is attributed the excessive heat.

Moose Field Meet Today

With the merchants, clerks and practically all the business and trades-people enjoying their half day Thursday vacation, the Moose Field day at Fairlawn park is assured of an excellent attendance. Coshocton's Moose will be the prime feature of interest for the local delegation as they will battle for the possession of the prize silver loving cup. Two drill contests will be held besides numerous foot events.

Size Limit Is Increased

The scope of the Parcel Post system has again been increased by a recent order which now permits the combined girth and length of packages to reach 84 inches instead of 72 as heretofore. Beginning September 1 postage may be sent on packages shipped by parcel post extra.

A feller can always tell where he stood till he asks it. Pinky Kerr says he's opposed t' spendin' any money on th' army till we find out what's t' be th' style next year.

W. N. Day Stricken At Office

W. N. Day, director of sales at the American Art Works, was seized suddenly Wednesday afternoon by an acute attack of appendicitis while at his office. He was hurried to his home where he was attended by Dr. Lister Pomerene.

At a late hour last night advices were received from the home on Chestnut street that he was resting easily but it was not then known whether an operation would be necessary, or whether he would be removed to the hospital.

A Columbus specialist has been summoned for a consultation.

Hubby Gets Better Of Argument

William Hartsock appeared before the mayor Wednesday morning determined to file a charge of assault and battery against his wife. Subsequent developments appeared to indicate that William had had the better of the mixup, as she declared she was unable to appear at the police station when the mayor asked her to call and talk over the matter. William was ready appeased and did not file a charge against his better half.

Home Bought By Trustee

Acting as trustee of the police and relief for Mrs. Dudley Guinther, of this city, J. L. Browning, of Frazeysburg, purchased the property on North Third street which was formerly owned by Mrs. Ada B. Haines. The Guinthers will make their home there.

Mrs. Guinther will be remembered by Coshocton people as Miss Bessie Donley, who, when but sixteen years of age, attempted suicide because she felt herself losing in a battle to support herself and home relatives. She was rescued, and a fund of more than $600 was raised to her from public subscription.

Trainrider Is Jailed

James Dorman, said guilty of stealing a ride on a freight train, was arraigned before Justice W. M. Wilson Wednesday afternoon and fined $10 and costs, the total amounting to $10.37. He was assigned to the county jail to work out the amount. Dorman, who is a stranger here, with the exception of the past few days, is said to have come to town from Zanesville.

WEATHER

FOR OHIO: Cloudy and probably showers Thursday. Friday unsettled.

USE THE MAIL

Little more than one hundred dollars was added to the Salvation Army campaign fund by the collection of Wednesday. A number of the donations have been sent in by mail and Capt. James Asher is anxious that more people, who intend contributing, avail themselves of this means either by using the subscription cards or the duplicates published in The Tribune each morning, if the cards have not been received. This method will lessen materially the work and will aid not only in shortening the time devoted to the campaign but will give Capt. Asher and Capt. Ladlow an idea of where they stand from day to day.

MAD DOG SCARE

Quite a little excitement was caused Tuesday evening by the actions of a dog thought to have had the rabies. It terrorized residents of West Main street for some time before it was finally captured by the police after being locked in a bathroom in the apartments of Miss Wheateraft in the Snyder building. The animal was then given over to the keeper who took charge of it.

Threatening Letters Sent

New Orleans, July 19. Two more letters signed "Pearce," in which the writer threatens disaster to British merchant and mail ships, were delivered here today by mail, one to an afternoon newspaper and the other to the chief of police. In both the writer demanded the release of Hans Haile, held in connection with receipt of a similar letter by the New Orleans Times-Picayune Sunday night.

Police Chief Reynolds says he regards the letter seriously.

Haile appealed today through the newspaper for the writer of the first "Pearce" letter to state that he (Haile) had nothing to do with the threats.

The writer today stated that Erich Muenter had "taught him explosives 'from A to Z,'" and that by one of his methods he could blow up most of New Orleans within a few hours.

Appropriations To Be Decreased

Washington, July 14. — The treasury department hereafter will construct postoffices and other federal buildings in accordance with the needs and importance of places where they are located, instead of spending all that congress appropriates.

Postoffices will be considered in four classes: those having receipts of more than $80,000 a year, those having between $60,000 and $80,000, those having from $15,000 to $60,000 and those below $15,000. By following the same plan in acquiring sites, the department, on 136 purchases, spent $500,000 less than congress authorized.

SHOPS MAY CLOSE.

It is probable that Coshocton's blacksmiths will also join the ranks of those who take a half day vacation on Thursday afternoons. If an agreement can be reached by the proprietors, the shops will likely close during the remainder of July and August.

Big Barn Is Completely Destroyed--Damage $1500

Fire, originating from sparks from a passing locomotive, almost completely destroyed the barn belonging to Sam Gill, located on Third, between Chestnut and Spaulding streets, Wednesday afternoon. The alarm was sounded at about [illegible] and when the firemen arrived they found the barn in a blaze. The fire had started in the rear of the barn and had spread to the roof, and in spite of the efforts of the firemen, the structure was soon a total loss. The firemen were able to save the adjoining barn owned by Mrs. Ed. Rogers, which is occupied by Frank Rogers and family, and also the residence of Mr. Gill, which was located about 100 feet from the burning barn. The firemen had a stiff battle to keep the sparks from setting the roofs of these buildings afire.

Mrs. Gill, who is well known here, was formerly Miss Bessie Donley, who, when but sixteen years of age, attempted suicide because she felt herself losing in a battle to support herself and home relatives. She was rescued, and a fund of more than $600 was raised for her from public subscription.

Firemen Delayed.

The fire department was summoned but was delayed in making the run because of the loosening of the seats on the reins. When they arrived the barn was a mass of flames. The fire department fought the flames for almost an hour before the final spark was extinguished.

During the blaze, the telephone wires and high tension electric light wires, running through the alley and just above the barn were melted and fell to the ground endangering the lives of the firemen and leaving the power cut off by the light company. Telephone communication was soon restored at a late hour last night, all the Rogers subscribers being without service.

A horse belonging to Sheriff George Pierson and rented by William Teale was also slightly damaged. It contains the Rogers barn. The loss is estimated at about $50 which is covered by insurance.

Paving Work Will Resume Today With A New Gang

Work will be resumed on the paving of South Third street this morning according to an announcement made by George J. Beck, jr., president of the Coshocton Construction company which has the contract. A new force of laborers has been secured which will work at the same hours and wages as those paid the force which struck yesterday.

Wednesday morning the bricklayers employed on the contract demanded a nine hour day with a wage of $2, instead of twenty cents an hour for a ten hour day as they had contracted for. This was refused by the management who offered to pay twenty cents an hour for the nine hour day. The bricklayers promptly struck.

The new law which went into effect on July 1, requires that on public contracts no more than eight hours be a day's work for laborers awarded after that date. The contract for the Third street paving was let prior to July 1.

Two Hundred And Fifty At Annual Army Picnic

Two hundred and twenty-five people enjoyed the annual picnic of the Salvation Army held Wednesday at McClain's grove. The children as well as their elders were conveyed to the picnic grounds in automobiles donated by generous owners, more than twenty of them having been offered for service.

The day was spent with contests and games of various natures. Races were specially featured and prizes awarded to the winners. Included in these were the 50 yard dash for the girls under 12 years, the 100 yard dash for the boys under 12 years, the 100 yard dash for the girls under 18 years, the 100 yard dash for the boys under 18 years, the 100 yard dash for the men, the married men's race, the married women's race, the single women's race, a ball game between the married men and single men resulted in a victory for the married men.

A sumptuous dinner included water melon, sandwiches, cakes, by generous owners, more than twenty of them having been offered for service.

Capt. Ladlow wishes to thank, through The Tribune, all those who donated their machines and helped in other ways to make the outing a success.

Wage War On Typhoid

J. A. Crabbe, representative of the Public Health Service in the United States, will be here next week to assist in the city's campaign against typhoid fever germs. Tuesday he visited Mt. Vernon, a city of 10,000 population, and secured reports from the local authorities in regard to the number of typhoid cases.

BAND CONCERT

CREDIT MEN WILL HOLD MEETING

The Coshocton Credit Men's Association will hold an organization meeting at the Carnegie Library Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The election of officers will take place at this time and matters discussed looking towards the final perfecting of the organization which is promoted by the Merchants' Merchantile Agency of Pittsburg. It is desired to so perfect plans at this meeting that the local members may be able to have their Credit Guides on hand for use during the fall trade.

The plan of the organization is to furnish the members of the association with a dependable basis of judging the credit rating of their customers. The association at present numbers thirty-five but it is thought that number will reach seventy-five before the next two weeks have elapsed.

The association will give notice to all who trade at their stores that they will be given a definite credit rating upon which their credit will be based, as follows: P. Prompt Pay, F. Fair pay, S. Slow Pay, C. Cash Customers, U. Uncertainty, X. Undesirable.

NOTICE!

As we are retiring from business we must insist on payments according to contract signed at time goods were purchased. Compliance with this request may prevent future unpleasantness, as we will be compelled to leave deliquent accounts for collection when we close our doors for good.

TEMPERANCE PROGRAM.

An interesting temperance program was presented by the children of the Conesville M. E. Sunday school at the church, Sunday evening. The children made a touching appeal in their songs and recitations and a feature of the entertainment was the carrying of banners by the little ones, bearing the inscriptions, "Vote for us," and "Make Ohio Dry."

ODD TEST OF SPECIAL SEED.

There is now in the possession of the Department of Agriculture a pair of cotton gloves and a pair of cotton socks into the manufacture of which no machinery has entered. The cotton was grown from longstaple Columbia seed sent out by the department a year ago to a farmer in South Carolina. The farm manager was interested in this seed, planted it by itself, and when the cotton began to ripen about the 1st of October picked 3 pounds of it himself. He then picked the seed by hand from the cotton, obtaining 1 pound of lint cotton. This he delivered to a lady in the vicinity, who carded it by hand, spun it into thread by hand, and knitted from it a pair of socks and gloves. Such instances as this are encouraging evidence of the interest that progressive farmers are taking in experimental seeds imported and distributed by the department.

TOWN TALK

Justice Longaneck, of West Lafayette, was in the city, Monday.

Mrs. Harvey Wilson has returned to her home in Coshocton, after an illness of ten days at the home of Garfield Watson, near West Bedford.

Mrs. Frank Ashton, of Walnut street, spent Sunday in Newark with her father, Mr. Miller, who is in a critical condition following a stroke of paralysis.

Ben Wasson, of North Eighth street, has returned home after a week of camping.

E. L. Lybarger, of Warsaw, was in Coshocton, Tuesday.

THEATRES

PASTIME AND UTAHNA.

The Pastime and Utahna theatres have good pictures booked for today. The feature picture at the Utahna shows Pat O'Malley as first the shiftless young man in the Edison two reeler "The Struggle Upward" and presents vividly the difficulty of breaking away from old ties and bettering himself—only to find that the girl who inspired him and whom he loves marries another.

The Pastime will present "A Sister's Burden" which tells of how Martha the eldest daughter of Silas Meisley a farmer, sacrifices her chances for happiness because she deems it her duty to take care of her younger brother and sister.

JACK PINE FOR REFORESTING

That jack pine is admirably suited for reforesting many of the dry, sandy regions of the North Central States is the conclusion of a new publication of the department Bulletin No. 212, "Observations on the Pathology of the Jack Pine." This tree, it is said, suffers only occasionally from winter injury, stands drought well and is comparatively free from a number of diseases which are commonly found on other coniferous trees. The pine is, however, sensitive to heat.

TENT MEETING.

Warsaw's third annual tent meeting will be held this year on the street just south of the Presbyterian church from July 23, to Aug. 1. There will be three services each day—9:30 a. m., 2. p. m., and 7:30 p. m., except Monday and Saturday, when there will be two services each day—2 p. m., and 7:30 p. m. The leading workers are Rev. E. E. Wood, Lansing, Mich.; A. C. Zepp, Upland, Ind.; Mrs. Sadie Nusby, leader in song. The services are free and everybody is welcome.

GREEKS TORTURED.

Turks Reported to Be Committing Outrages Among Villagers.

Athens, Greece, July 14.—Reports of anti-Greek outrages committed by the Turks, particularly in small interior villages, aroused intense indignation here. Many of the Greek inhabitants of Armaki, Kyzicos and Marmora are reported to have been tortured because they refused to embrace Islamism. Thirty thousand Greeks are said to have been expelled from Mussulman villages and their homes plundered. The government instructed consuls to investigate the reports.

EXPERIENCE
THE BEST TEACHER
This old saying is quite true regarding LAUNDRY WORK as well as most other things.
That the average housewife is not quite satisfied with the usual DOMESTIC PROCESS is evident from the large number of new preparations and appliances constantly being placed on the market to better the methods.
Is it not reasonable, that by doing hundreds of washings each week, we learn better how to remove the stains and soils without injury to the fabric, than you possibly can with one washing?
Our best customers are those who have learned by LONG EXPERIENCE the value of our service.

SCORES HURT IN FIRE.

Men Trample Women in Effort to Escape From Flames.

New York, July 14.—Scores of persons were injured and ten lives were lost by a fire which swept through the upper floors of the five-story tenement at 62 Delancey street. Benjamin Orinstein received fatal injuries. When the police arrived on the scene they found a panic raging with men fighting to get out of the house ahead of the women and children. The confusion was so intense that the police had to use their night sticks to clear the stairs.

Art Treasurers Arrive.

New Orleans, July 14.—A collection of original paintings and drawings by some of the noted artists of France, presented to the United States by the Society of French Artists and Writers, arrived here on the steamer Rhecantabeau from Havre. The paintings and drawings are a token of appreciation of the work done by Americans in France since the war started.

BID HIGH FOR RUMANIA'S AID

German Diplomats Busy In the Balkan States.

London, July 14.—While the proposals of the Germanic powers to Rumania, concerning certain concessions to be made in case that country continues her neutrality through the war, make no threats as to what shall be done in case the Balkan nation fails to give the assurances wanted, the simultaneous publication in newspapers of articles bearing on the situation makes the joint note of Germany and Austria almost a direct statement that in case Rumania fails in "her duties" she will be annexed to Austria in case the allies are defeated.

Austro-Hungary in her note makes two proposals to Rumania, both of which the German empire agrees to are carried out. If Rumania will remain neutral until the close of the war, Austria will cede to her a portion of Bukowina as far north as the town of Sereth. The treatment of the Rumanians in the dual monarchy will be ameliorated, Rumanians will be largely admitted to the public service in Hungary, and greater liberty will be permitted to Rumanian churches.

The alternative proposal affects the entry of Rumania into the war as the ally of Germany, Austria and Turkey. In this event the ceded territory would be extended to Czernowitz and the line of the Pruth, and the frontier on the Danube would be extended beyond the Iron Gates and include Melnadia. The undertaking mentioned above with regard to the situation of Rumanians in Hungary would also apply, not allowing complete autonomy to Transylvania. There is also an understanding that the Austro-German armies will convey Bessarabia and hand it over immediately to Rumania, to Germany guaranteeing the execution of these proposals.

What Proposals Include.

Both proposals include as a basis Rumania's agreement to facilitate the transportation of munitions of war from the Germanic powers to Turkey.

In this country the proposals of Germany are looked upon simply as intended to delay negotiations which have been carried on between Rumania and the allied powers, looking toward Rumania's participation in the war on the side of the allies. In fact it is reported that Rumania has [illegible] all shipments of munitions of war intended for Turkey, [illegible] with the Germanic powers, [illegible] demands from Russia to Russia [illegible] to go to their situation undeveloped.

The Rumania law is not similar to that in the United States. While the latter takes no note of shipments of munitions to any of the warring powers, Rumania prohibits to foreign such shipments in all cases, as a part of her neutrality.

It is considered here as highly significant that Germany gives Rumania thirty days in which to reply. This is taken to be an that Germany is fully confident that the Turks can hold the Dardanelles that long. Because with the Dardanelles fallen the liability is much stronger that Rumania would defy Germany and Austria and either decide to join the allies or maintain neutrality, in name, which would harm the Germanic powers as much as possible.

SUBMARINE RECORD.

Berlin, July 14.—Included among the items given out by the Overseas News agency was the following:

"During the month of June twenty-nine British, three French, one Belgian and nine Russian merchantmen were sunk by German submarines. The total loss of the entente allies by submarines, including fishing steamers, which mostly were armed patrol boats, aggregated 175,000 tons. The loss of human life was remarkably small, the submarines using every precaution and giving ample warning and time for crews to leave their ships if no resistance were attempted."

Says State Should Make Antitoxin.

Cedar Point, O., July 14.—Concerted government action, directed by experts and backed by liberal expenditures, will wipe out tuberculosis, declared Dr. H. T. Sutton of Zanesville, president of the state board of health, in his annual address at the opening of the state health convention here. The speaker advocated placing the bureau of vital statistics within the state health board and the making of antitoxin by the state.

Missouri Town Inundated.

Kansas City, July 14.—Rain, which reached the proportions of a cloudburst in northwest Missouri, swelled the Tarkio river until it broke its dike and inundated Corning, Mo., fifty miles north of St. Joseph. Residents of Corning fled to the hills and merchants removed their stocks to upper stories. The water crept over the entire town of 500 inhabitants and is rising steadily.

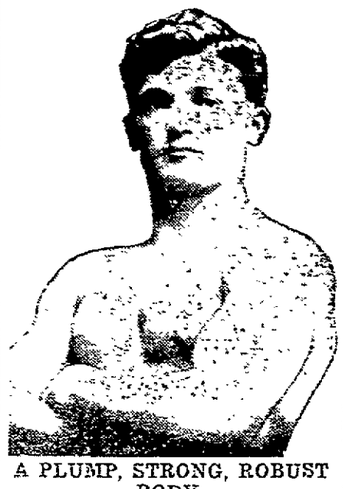
People Used To Call Me "Skinny"

But Now My Name Has Changed Gained 15 Pounds and

Look Like A New Man



A PLUMP, STRONG, ROBUST BODY.

"Before I took Sargol people used to call me 'skinny' but now my name is changed. My whole body is stout. Have gained 15 pounds and am gaining yet. I look like a new man," declared a man who had just finished the Sargol treatment.

"I was all run down to the very bottom," writes F. Cagnon. "I had to quit work, I was so weak. Now, thanks to Sargol, I look like a new man. I gained 22 pounds in 23 days."

"Sargol has put 10 pounds on me in 14 days," states W. O. Roberts. "It has made me sleep well, enjoy what I ate and enabled me to work with interest and pleasure."

Would you too, like to quickly put from 10 to 30 pounds of good, solid "stay-there" flesh, fat and muscular tissue between your skin and bones?

More than half a million thin men and women have gladly made the test, and that Sargol does succeed, does make thin folks fat even where all else has failed, is best proved by the tremendous business we have done. No drastic diet, flesh creams, massage, oils or emulsions, but a simple, harmless home treatment.

Wimmer-Arnold, druggists and other leading druggists in Coshocton and vicinity sell SARGOL in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

BAR GIRLS FROM WARSHIPS

"No more girls on warships." This British admiralty order is the result of a torpedo running amuck. Fortunately the wild torpedo did little damage.

The British destroyers have been putting in at Newport frequently and the officers have become popular with the inhabitants. The evening in question a prominent citizen of Newport, his niece and another young woman were aboard a destroyer, and one of the gunners was explaining the working of a torpedo tube. The charge of high explosive had been removed and placed to one side, when the gunner was temporarily called away. Meanwhile another gunner came along and thinking the explanation had been concluded replaced the charge and went away.

The first gunner returned and, unaware that the charge had been replaced, proceeded with his demonstration, saying: "This is how the torpedo is discharged." With that he pressed the button.

There was a report and the amazed little party saw the deadly torpedo leave its tube and travel under water right across the stretch between the pier where the destroyer was tied up and the next pier. It was making straight for a large Italian steamship but for some unexplained reason the torpedo's course was suddenly deflected. Instead of crashing the steamer it crashed into the wall of the pier twenty feet from the vessel's stern. Tons of water were thrown into the air, drenching many persons who happened to be near by. The pier suffered considerably. There will be no more little parties.

BIRTH NOTE.

Program Is Enjoyed At Lewisville

A program of splendid quality and well selected numbers was presented at the Canal Lewisville M. E. church Tuesday evening by Mrs. Julia Kromer Kerlin, lyric soprano; Miss Genevieve Kerlin, dramatic soprano; Miss Ione Glass, contralto; Wallace Jackson, violinist; Wade Rinehart, accompanist.

The church was well filled and quite a large crowd from Coshocton attended the concert. The opening number, "Spring Song," sung by Mrs. Kerlin with violin obligato, by Mr. Jackson, was received with delight by the audience and Mrs. Kerlin was equally pleasing in her interpretation of "If I Were a Rose," and in "Oh Dry Those Tears," also accompanied with the violin. Miss Kerlin, who possesses a voice of rare tone and quality in one so young, presented in a charming manner, the popular vocal selections, "Just a Weaving for You," "Some Where a Voice is Calling," and "Sing Me to Sleep," the latter accompanied with the violin. Miss Glass' sweet contralto voice contrasted beautifully with the soprano voices and she appeared at her best in, "Don't Mind the Sorrows," and "Rose in the Bud," "Little Pink Rose," and "My Soul." Mr. Jackson's numbers were "Liebeslied," and "Le [illegible]," both played in the [illegible] artist manner which always wins his playing a delight. Mr. Rinehart was perfect in his accompaniments and displayed the qualities of a real musical artist.

THE CANAL'S INFLUENCE

The Panama canal has been open for business just eleven months, the opening date being August 15, 1914. While not enough time has elapsed to prove conclusively any one of a number of interesting questions concerning its future, both in reference to our own domestic trade and its influence on the world's commerce, yet much significant data is already at hand.

One fact seems already settled: The canal is not merely to be a connecting link between two oceans; it is destined to become the MAIN HIGHWAY between the two coasts of the United States. At least this is the prediction made by a commercial writer in the current number of the World's Work. While its effect on our railway business is yet scarcely felt, yet its story as written in tonnage for the first ten months is remarkable.

This much is assured: The canal is already a successful competitor for transcontinental business. And this does not apply merely to traffic originating at seaports, BUT TO THAT ORIGINATING AT FAR INLAND POINTS. In proof of this interesting contention the World's Work writer offers the following:

> It is a matter of record that steamship companies operating between New York and San Francisco have bid for freight in points far beyond the Mississippi river. They have taken this freight by rail to the Atlantic coast, trans-shipped it through the canal to San Francisco, and have then paid the rail tariff for carriage several hundred miles east. They have done all this at a lower cost than the transcontinental railroads have found practicable. No more illuminative illustration of the difference in rates is available than that presented by the president of a steamship company in asking for an enlarged fleet. Taking a carload as a unit it is found that steel plates may be carried westward from coast to coast by water for $100, as against $320 by rail; canned goods, $200, as against $360, and dry goods, $200, as against $1,080. Eastbound, canned salmon may be carried for $120 a car by water, as against $240 by rail; dried fruits, $160, as against $440, and wine for $120, as against $220.

The railroads have not yet attempted to compete actively with the steamship companies for this business. They have first to revise their tariffs, and this complex problem is now before the interstate commerce commission. Steamship officials, who are understood to be free from all railroad influence, believe that the rail routes across the continent can never hope again to command the traffic, now that the canal is in operation. There are several doubtful points, and it must not be forgotten that this is an unusual time, and that the canal has not yet been open a year. It has been said that the steamship companies have purposely cut rates in order to get business and that the railroads are confident that the sea carriers will find it necessary to seek a higher level.

Whatever this may be cannot be foretold for some time. It is evident that the steamship companies are developing a trade of great magnitude, and there is every evidence that the shippers have much to gain through the existence of water traffic.

THE NEW INDIAN

From the first intermarriage of white men and Indians, back when Columbus and his sailors found a new world, until the present, has been a long, [illegible] The inevitable changes have marked the course [illegible] to the Indians, equally profound [illegible]

A few years back, [illegible] as if poor Lo was surely marked for extinction. But [illegible] so sure now. A more hopeful and manly purpose has [illegible] of the dominant race with its possibilities. [illegible] prospect for the future. [illegible] coming of more men. It now appears as [illegible] that the Indian stock, if not [illegible] its purity, then with slight intermingling with white blood will be perpetuated on this continent.

In Oklahoma, to show that the Indan is making enduring progress, the fact is cited that a newspaper, The Colony Courier, is published by an Indian and for Indians. We are printing herewith a few of the items taken from a recent issue. There is, of course, no similar newspaper in the world. It has the genuine Indian flavor, picturesque names and racial colloquialisms. Read these samples of genuine Indian news:

"Bull Looking Around is going to plant 20 acres of kaffir corn on his allotment. He has leased 50 acres of his land to white man and another white man 30 acres.

"Bad Teeth and family from Boggy Creek are in Colony visiting friends. Bad Teeth's two children, Roy and Frames, have been attending white school near Bessie.

"Digger Woman Haag, Clara Haag, Clarence Haag, and Blanel Watan and Baby Spotted Calf have gone to Calumet to visit the Haag family. Watan hauled this bunch to Weatherford for them to take train to Calumet.

"Making Road applied for divorce from Little Man of Cantonment and she got it. Making Road has been gone some for last five months she make several trips to Arapaho, in coming from Deer Creek her team give out five miles north of Colony, Bull Looking Around went out with his team and brought her in. Making Roads daughter Jessie Crow Neck is attending Seger school and she came in to visit her.

"Mrs. George Bent is going to make fine buckskin dress for Reese Kincaide. This dress will be beaded mostly with fine cut beads. Cut beads are costly beads, only beef sinew will be used for these beads.

"Theodora Haury and Bichenen both Arapahoes have been layed up with mumps, Indians call it swelling jaws. Number of camp Indians have had it. Here before mumps was unknown among plain Indians. Indians claim they have been subject to all kinds of diseases since they got mixed up with Pale Faces.

"High Back Bear from near Clinton is down here to Supt. Small about some money due him from citizens of Custer county for building road through his allotment. Supt. Small informed High Back Bear papers had not come back yet."

Pittsburgh complains of the frequency with which young women of that city are attacked by night prowlers between the hours of midnight and 3 o'clock. But only those are attacked who are not within doors at that time.

Now that another reply to the latest German note is to be drafted, Col. Roosevelt doubtless finds it hard to keep from saying in his modest way that this is a duty which ought to be imposed on our ex-presidents.

By the time a man has learned enough by experience and observation to amount to something in the world, he is compelled to devote practically his entire time to his eyes, teeth, stomach and general health.

According to the reckless and profligate way in which England is said to be subsidizing the American press, it seems that the official subsidizer has had ample time to get into this part of Ohio.

It is to be hoped that no more European countries will begin fighting. Uncle Same has about as many on his list to be neutral to as he can accomodate.

The Wise Guy says: no woman will admit to growing old, but at a certain age many of them take to wearing a dotted veil effectively.

YOUR HEALTH

New Department of The Tribune Conducted in Cooperation with the Committee on Public Health Education Ohio State Medical Association.

Edited by John H. Landis, M. D.

Health Officer of Cincinnati.

The bulletin on summer typhoid has caused numerous inquiries concerning the method of vaccination used to render those taking the treatment safe from an attack of typhoid fever.

The process is similar to the protection afforded against small pox by vaccination for that disease.

The treatment consists of three injections of a dead culture of typhoid organisms at intervals of ten days. These injections are usually given in the arm near the shoulder. The first one consists of 500,000,000 of the dead organisms, the second and third, 1,000,000,000 each.

In the great majority of cases treated, very little inconvenience has resulted. In some instances, a few hours, headache and slight fever have been in evidence. In no instance has there been a disastrous result. The injections cause the least trouble when given in the late afternoon, any symptoms passing away while the patient is sleeping.

Hundreds of thousands of men in the army and navy have been treated, with the result that typhoid fever has practically been eliminated from both services.

While vaccination against typhoid is indicated in practically all people, it is especially necessary in those who are about to make a journey to places where the purity of the water supply is open to questions, in all of those who are in close personal contact with a case of typhoid, and in communities where the disease is prevalent.

A large percentage of cases are "contact" cases, where the disease is communicated by direct contact with the typhoid patient such as frequently occur in the same family. The occurrence of one case in a family, for example, should lead to the immediate vaccination of the other members of that family.

While vaccination is a positive preventive, you must not relax your efforts to eradicate the insanitary disposal of household sewage, for this filth contains other disease-producing germs over which typhoid vaccination has no control and which may cause death.

PEOPLES' FORUM

MR. GOLDMAN.

Editor The Tribune:

Mr. Goldman was taken in custody by the chief of police about 5:30 Thursday evening charged with selling rain coats without license.

I was informed by telephone while eating supper and later went to the municipal building to dispose of the matter and save Mr. Goldman the inconvenience of remaining in custody over night.

On my arrival there, Mr. Goldman assumed an attitude and manner that prevented a prompt disposition of his case, among other things he claimed he would communicate with New York City. After listening to a great amount of talk and some shedding of tears, I advised him that his case would be taken up at 9:00 Friday morning, and in view of his warlike attitude his bond was fixed at fifty dollars. He professed to have no money though but a few minutes before, he had sold two rain coats for cash and produced a book which he said contained travelers' checks. I am not familiar with these—having never seen one—and feeling it was somewhat improbable that an ordinary peddler speaking good English would have forty or fifty travelers checks on his person, I declined to accept them in lieu of bond. He claims he was refused opportunity to get them cashed, but the fact is, the hotel keeper who he asked to cash them, refused to do so.

Friday morning Mr. Goldman was again profuse with talk and tears, and wound up by insisting that he plead guilty the night before.

His plea of guilty was accepted and after reading the ordinance to him, which fixes a fine of twenty dollars, I directed him to pay a fine of five dollars, which Mr. Goldman at once refused to pay. On being informed that he must pay, he produced three dollars and flatly announced I should take that or nothing. It was then he was informed that his case was one in which a fine of ten dollars would be collected, and he paid this sum. He then took out a license to sell raincoats Friday.

Mr. Goldman's letter was brought to me and I was asked in regard to printing it. While I felt some persons might be misleadbyy his statement, I also felt he should be allowed "to have his say" and I guess he has had it.

Must Keep Rifles Clean.

British officers at the front say that one of the main anxieties of their lives is to make the men keep their rifles clean. Sometimes the men's rifles are examined three times a day in the muddy trenches. One captain has made a reputation by his lectures on the importance of keeping the rifle clean.

"Now, lads," he says, "remember your rifle is your best friend—your only friend—when you are in action. If it's not clean and won't fire, where are you? If you don't keep your rifle clean there is only one thing to do. Have you all a square pair of shoelaces? Very well, take one of your spare shoelaces, tie it to the trigger, put the muzzle to your head, pull the lace, blow off your head. That's the only thing left for you. Now then, lads, what's to be done if you hadn't cleaned your rifle and the officer comes around to inspect?"

The squad calls: "Shoelace, sir."

ZANESVILLE, OHIO.

Robbed at Billy Sunday Meeting.

"One can never tell what kind of company he is in when he's in a crowd," observed Maj. J. C. Hemphill of South Carolina and Philadelphia, at Washington. "William Campbell, editor of the Charlestown Free Press, West Virginia, recently had an experience which illustrates this point. He was visiting in New York, and went with the crowd to see the new heavyweight champion, Jess Willard. He thought pretty well of Willard. The next day he went over to Paterson to hear 'Billy' Sunday. He thought pretty well of Sunday, also. In fact, he thought so much of the baseball evangelist that he went back the following day. As he was pushing his way out of the throng in the tabernacle in Paterson someone touched him for his bank roll, which he had carelessly allowed to repose in his coat pocket.

"The incident very naturally set the editor to thinking about crowds, and he came to the conclusion that no matter what might be the attraction, sports or religion, human nature very probably was the same. At any rate, he lost his money."

COOPERDALE.

ENGLAND IS ASTOUNDED.

People Thought They Had Million Men at the Front.

London, July 14.—Official announcement by Lord Lansdowne to parliament that there are no more than 450,000 British soldiers in the European war theater has given England the greatest shock it has received since the disaster at the Dardanelles.

Another attack on the government is anticipated as a result of Lord Lansdowne's statement that the British forces consist of twenty-two or twenty-three divisions. On April 21 David Lloyd-George announced that the British had thirty-six divisions at the front. The government's opponents are expected to seize upon the discrepancy and demand an explanation.

It was a similar discrepancy in cabinet ministers' statements as to war munitions that formed the basis for the recent attacks upon Lord Kitchener and the conduct of the military establishment.

The British people was astounded by the Lansdowne statement. It had been supposed that more than 1,000,000 soldiers had been sent in the field to defend the French manned ports. The revelation by the cabinet minister has caused deep concern in view of the German successes in the Arras region.

Swedish Ship Hits Mine.

Stockholm, July 14.—The Swedish schooner Ingo, bound from England with a cargo of coal, struck a mine and sank off the Aland islands in the Baltic. Captain Sjoblack and four of her crew were drowned.

Strode Gives Up Fight.

Columbus, July 14.—S. E. Strode, member of the state agricultural commission and champion of the plan for 25-cent admission to the state fair this year, has given up hope of securing the lower admission price.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

To Whom It May Concern:

Notice is hereby given that until the 21st day of August, 1915, at 12 o'clock noon, sealed proposals will be received at the office of the clerk of the board of education of Franklin Twp., for all the labor and material necessary in building a school house on the lot situated in district No. 2, Franklin Twp., Coshocton, Ohio, and known as the Robinson school. And according to the plans and specifications on file in the clerk's office.

Each bid shall contain the name of every person interested in the same, and shall be accompanied by a sufficient guarantee of some disinterested person, that if the bid is accepted a contract will be entered into, and the performance of the same properly secured. When both labor and material are contained in the work, bid for each must be separately stated, in the bid, with the price thereof.

Bids on the substructure and the superstructure must be separate.

Proposals for heating and ventilating will be received on the same date. Heating and ventilating systems must comply to all state requirements.

None but the lowest responsible bid will be accepted, and the board reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or accept and bid for both labor and material, which is the lowest in the aggregate.

By order of the Board of Education.

C. J. Zimmer, Clerk.
May 22, 26, 29; July 2, 5, 9, 12, 16, 19, 23, 26, 30.

Profit — Profit
who's got the profit ?

The Cruel Banker

Mr. Edgly, of the rising young firm of Edgly & Taylor, Clothiers, calls on Banker Townley.

"Good morning, Mr. Townley. Didn't see you at the club supper last night."

"Good morning, Edgly. Anything I can do for you?" Townley's manner registers a lack of cordiality.

"Why, yes. I want to fix up a little loan—just a thousand—want to discount some bills."

"I see—mm—possibly. First, I w. to ask you a f. questions."

"Certainly, Mr. Townley. Our books are open to you."

"They may be open to me—but are they to you?"

"I don't quite get you, Mr. Townley."

"Never mind—we'll try the questions.

How Much Do You Owe?"

"Why—er—I'd have to have that figured up. I can let you know tomorrow."

"You ought to have the figures right in your inside pocket. How much is there owing you?"

"Let me see—"

"Well, never mind. I see you don't know. Does your shirt and underwear or hat department pay the best per cent net profit?"

"We couldn't very well get at anything more than an approximate estimate of that. I guess the profit on hats would lead, however."

"You guess. I don't like guesswork as a basis for loans. How much does it cost you to do business?"

"Twenty per cent is considered a safe estimate in the clothing business."

"I See—More Guess-Work

Who is your most profitable clerk?"

"I pass, Mr. Townley. I'm beginning to see the point, too."

Mr. Townley's manner warms slightly.

"Now see here, Edgly, you get the thousand all right. I know you are solvent if you don't; and moreover, I'll know when you become insolvent a long time before you do, unless you change your methods.

"The trouble with you and Taylor is that you are too blame pushing. You have built up a fine business by hard work and brilliant merchandising, but you are in a fair way to lose it because you never take time to figure out where you stand. You don't know your business. Every decision you make, every plan, every policy is based on guess-work—on approximate estimates.

"Now, Edgly, will you boys take my advice on this matter?"

"We'll do more than that, Mr. Townley.

We'll Thank You for It"

"Very well. The general plan I shall suggest will involve some [illegible] policy. You will need a mechanical means of handling figures so your bookkeeper can do all his regular work and give you, besides this, vital information about your business. That means that your first move is to get a Burroughs Figuring Machine. We use it in the Bank here—glad to show you how it works. When the Burroughs man comes to show you the machine you ought to get, you and your bookkeeper have a good talk with him. Tell him just what your problems are. He is up on accounting work and can be a big help in starting you right toward getting at the facts of your business. All this won't add to your running expenses. Your bookkeeper, with the help of the figuring machine, can do all the work and do it more easily. What will be the result?

You and Taylor Will Know How You Stand

Every day, you will know which lines are paying and which are losing; which salesmen are doing the best work; how this week compares in sales and profit with the same week last year; how much you owe and is owing you. All of this information, and much more that is of basic importance, you will get every day or every week in condensed reports.

"Then, when you need a temporary accommodation, I won't be able to ask a lot of embarrassing questions."

"Say, Mr. Townley, I'm sorry Taylor couldn't have heard this talk of yours. Anyway, we'll act on your advice right away. Thanks for the loan."

The Burroughs Adding Machine Company issues a book, "A Better Day's Profits." It points the way the title suggests. It tells how simple it is to know your business. Thousands of merchants have made money by adopting the ideas in this book. It shows where profits leak away and how to stop it.

It's free. Write for it.

BUILD DIRIGIBLE.

Akron May Soon Become Center of New War Industry.

Akron, O., July 14.—If a gigantic dirigible war airship, now under construction here, proves to be satisfactory at completion, Akron may be called upon to manufacture a fleet of such monsters of the air to strengthen national defenses. Six months probably will elapse before the big dirigible will be ready for government tests. Other dirigibles have been constructed as experiments here recently, but all have been discarded, while experts directed their attention to the one which no doubt will be a model for scores of others.

The dirigible under construction is of the latest type in every detail and suitable for coast defense. The carrier car is being constructed of light steel tubing, and will be large enough to accommodate a crew of about twelve men.

AGREE TO ARBITRATE.

Chicago Painters and Metal Workers' Strike Nears End.

Chicago, July 14.—Complete labor peace in Chicago is in prospect for the first time in years, with the announcement that painters and metal workers, who have been on a strike for more than two months, had agreed to arbitrate.

More than 10,000 union painters will be affected by a settlement. The striking electrical workers also are expected to agree to arbitration of the wage controversy.

Employers and labor leaders are of the opinion that labor peace in Chicago promises to be lasting, as a result of recent successes in arbitration in the street car men's strike and the carpenters' strike.

Mt. Vesuvius Active.

Naples, July 14.—The activity of Mt. Vesuvius is becoming more marked. Professor Malladra, director of the Royal observatory on the volcano, descended into the crater with three assistants to take photographs and make observations. Professor Malladra formed the opinion, on his return, that the sides of the crater [illegible] dangerous cracks. Many [illegible] down the crater water falling on the lava turned into steam and quickly evaporated.

Husband Accused.

Cincinnati, July 14.—Allen Schweitzer, whose wife was fatally burned in their home, was charged with murder. Patrolman Schroeder, who arrested the man after the death of his wife at a hospital Sunday, swore to the warrant. A lamp struck the bed in which Mrs. Schweitzer was sleeping with her two children, Clifford, eight and Stanley, one, and all were burned.

Guard Holt's Grave.

Dallas, Tex., July 14.—A watchman, it was learned, has been placed here at the grave of Frank Hall or Frank Manager, who shot J. P. Morgan. Mrs. Holt's family employed the guard to prevent desecration of the grave. No tombstone has yet been placed, the grave being marked by a board bearing the name "Frank Hall."
